

John Hobbs's Chronology

Remedy for hoarseness

Take the whites of two eggs and beat them, add two spoonfuls of white sugar, grate in a little nutmeg and then add a pint of lukewarm water, stir well and drink often, repeat the preparation if necessary and it will ease the most obstinate case of hoarseness in a short time.

Mr Deaven Basingstoke

Notes.

The first page of the notebook was used for notes after the Chronology was written. The last two pages consist of miscellaneous agricultural notes, names and addresses. The first entry on these two pages dates from 1785, which indicates that the Chronology was written in a notebook which had already been slightly used. I have not transcribed these pages.

For the main part of the Chronology, I have followed the transcription previously made, amended some names and checked them against the original. I have not double-checked all the dates, some of which are obviously out of order. I have rationalised some of the punctuation and capitalisation, and omitted the original page numbers. I have left the spelling mistakes in their original form where I have noticed them, but may inadvertently have added some of my own.
